Logistics and Organisation

The Winter Council Meeting is held in Geneva. The Summer Council Meeting is held at the venue of the AM and the Autumn Council Meeting is held in conjunction with the UEGW. The meeting room, hotel and all other logistics are organised by the Association Administration Office, in conjunction with the GS.

Logistics for all Geneva based meetings are organised by Geneva Head Office.

Refund of Expenses

Winter Council Meeting:

The Society will cover the costs of flight (economy fare), hotel and meals for the Council members and guests from the evening before the meeting takes place until the morning of the day following the meeting. Should the total costs be less expensive for a member to fly home on the Sunday rather than the Saturday, the Society will cover the extra night at the hotel.

Summer Council Meeting:

Meeting room, hotel and all other logistics are organised by the Association Administration Office in conjunction with the PCO. The Society will cover the registration fee, costs of flight (economy fare) and hotel for the Council members from the evening before the Council meeting takes place until the morning of the day following the end of the AM

Autumn Council Meeting:

Should the Council member be an invited guest to the UEGW, the UEGW will cover the travel, registration and hotel costs. If not, the Society will cover the costs of flight (economy fare), hotel and meals for the Council members and guests from the evening before the meeting takes place until the morning of the day following the meeting. Should the total costs be less expensive for a member to fly home on the Sunday rather than the Saturday, the Society will cover the extra night at the hotel.

UEG Week:

Should any Council Member be interested in attending UEG Week in its entirety, ESPGHAN will cover the costs of registration, hotel costs and meals for the duration of the week. This reimbursement is subject to the Council Member attending the entire scientific programme schedule during the Congress.

Attendance of Council/Committee Meetings

The term of Office of Council members who do not attend two consecutive meetings will have their Council member/Committee member status rescinded by the President. In cases of exceptional circumstances, the case will be assessed and will be at the discretion of the President.

The Council Meetings should focus on the topics as detailed below:

Claims need to be submitted within 30 days after the meeting in order to be refunded. All members holding a position within ESPGHAN need to submit their annual Declaration of Interest form in order to be eligible to receive refunds for expenses related to their position.

ESPGHAN meetings need to be registered with the Association Administration Office prior to the meeting in order for expenses to be covered by ESPGHAN. Expenses for travelling to non-ESPGHAN meetings related to one's role within ESPGHAN need to be announced to the office prior to the meeting.

Article 5 - Committees

All committees will act in accordance with the Missions and Rules set out for each respective Committee.

5.1 Committees on Gastroenterology / Hepatology / Nutrition

Mission

The Committees on Gastroenterology / Hepatology / Nutrition are standing committees of the Society. The work of the Committees aims at promoting child health by:

- a) Writing and publishing authoritative commentaries of clinical and scientific relevance on pertinent questions in the area of Paediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition (PGHN).
- b) Providing advice on matters related to PGHN to ESPGHAN and other scientific societies, regulatory bodies, non-governmental organisations, industry and other interested parties.
- c) Contributing to the exchange of scientific information, and to promote high quality research and training in paediatric gastroenterology, by organising workshops and scientific meetings, training courses, and other suitable approaches;
- d) Providing guidance on teaching in PGHN, on the organisation of practice in care and education, practical approaches to diagnosis and treatment and other questions of relevance.

The strength and authority of the ESPGHAN Committees depend on their unbiased and independent decision making. The comments and actions of the Committee are led only by scientific arguments and by its best understanding of the interests of children.

The Committees are part of ESPGHAN and are answerable to the Council of the Society with regard to its membership, publications and other activities. The rules and standing orders of ESPGHAN, and its Council, supersede all the Committees might wish to impose. The Committees aim at close interaction with the other activities, the other Committees, Council, and the membership of ESPGHAN.

Committee Members

The Committees are composed of a chairperson, a secretary and up to ten additional members, i. e. a total of up to twelve members.

The Allied Health Professional Committee (AHP) and the Young ESPGHAN Committee each propose one member to be approved by voting (majority decision) of all other members of the Committee.

Open positions on the committee need to be advertised to all members via the monthly electronic newsletter five months before the term of office commences and at least twice. Candidates for appointment as new members of the Committees should be full ESPGHAN members and are required to submit a CV and a list of scientific publications to the Committee.

Individuals considered for appointment will be chosen by the committees and proposed to the Council of ESPGHAN by the acting chair of the committee. Appointments of all Committee members need to be confirmed by the ESPGHAN Council.

For the Committee of Gastroenterology; The Committee will consist of a minimum of six core members plus one representative of AHP and one representative of Young ESPGHAN.

Up to four positions will be open to the Working/Special Interest Groups for direct representation on the Committee. Applications from nominees of WG/SIGs must be accompanied by a letter of support from the chair of the WG/SIG (or if the WG/SIG chair is applying, from another member of the WG/SIG) confirming the nomination has occurred by consensus of the members of the WG/SIG. Serving GIC members will vote on these applications based on importance and priority for WG/SIG to have direct representation. If no consensus is found, the positions will be eligible for an open call to all ESPGHAN members.

Officers and members of the Committee are required to submit a written declaration on potential conflicts of interest upon joining the Committee and again at the beginning of every calendar year, and to declare any potential new conflicts of interest as they may arise. These written declarations will be kept by the Association Administration Office for reference.

All members of the committee have full voting rights.

The Committee may, on an ad hoc basis, call on the services of experts in particular areas. These experts would not become full members of the Committee.

The members of the Committee and all ad hoc experts involved in the activities of the Committee are obliged to respect full confidentiality of discussions and all written material exchanged. No material and no oral information shall be distributed outside of the committee membership unless expressly agreed to by the chairperson.

Manuscripts will be regarded as strictly confidential until accepted for publication, unless expressly agreed otherwise by the chairperson.

Chairpersons and Secretaries

The chairpersons of the Committees are nominated by the Committees, approved by the Council of ESPGHAN and confirmed by ballot by the ESPGHAN membership for a period of three years and will represent the committee as a Council member. A re-election after the three years is not possible.

Nominations need to be announced to the Association Administration Office until the 1st of February of the respective year in order to be put forward to the Council during the Winter Council Meeting. Candidates for committee chairs should be put forward not later than until the end of their fourth year of membership in the committee. The online ballot should usually be open from the 1st of March until 15 days before the next AGM, with the new Council members announced during that AGM.

The chairperson will carry final responsibility for all decisions and actions of the committee. The chairperson will act as the spokesperson of the Committee in interactions with third parties, unless agreed otherwise. Although the Committee will generally act based on consensus or majority decision, in exceptional circumstances the chairperson's action might need to be taken.

After consultation with the Committee, the Chairperson proposes to the ESPGHAN Council a secretary to be appointed for a period of three years. The secretary will act as the vice-chairperson and take over the chairperson's function in the event that the chair is unable to fulfil her/his duties, until the chair can resume her/ his responsibilities, or a new chairperson is appointed.

The secretary will keep minutes and other relevant records of the activities of the Committee and, at the end of his term of office, hand these documents over to the next secretary. Copies should be sent to the Association Administration Office for archiving purposes. The Secretary will support the Chairperson to produce all relevant reports as outlined in Article 4.2 to be lodged with the Association Administration Office.

Officer Terms

The term of office for all committee members is three years and runs from AGM to AGM. Every officer can be re-elected once. This means that the maximum term of each individual officer is six years.

For AHP and Young ESPGHAN representatives the term of office is generally limited to three years max to facilitate more rapid turn-over and exposure of more AHP and Young ESPGHAN members to this position. If no replacement can be found after three years an exceptional re-election is possible.

If the chair or secretary reaches a period of 6 years membership in the committee during their mandate, they should continue as chair or secretary until the three-year term of the respective position ends. The chairperson and the secretary will stay in office until their successors have been appointed, even if their term has expired, unless the EC nominates an interim officer.

If an officer has stepped down for a period of three years, he/she may postulate again. An officer that has to step down from one committee can postulate to become an officer in another committee.

Meetings

The committee will usually meet three times per year, with one of these meetings to be held at the Annual Meeting. If a Committee is to hold a Strategy Day, this should take place in Geneva, Switzerland. The secretary will be responsible for sending out invitations, a proposal for the agenda, and for writing minutes. The minutes will be approved at the following Committee meeting and signed as a true record upon approval. The costs of the meetings and attendance will be covered from the budget allocated by the Council to the Committees. Failure to attend two consecutive meetings in full will constitute a breach of Committee responsibilities and as such, the membership of the Committee should be revoked. Exceptions can be considered, and the outcome will be determined by a Committee vote.

Finances

The Committee will accept donations and sponsorship only on the condition that its independence is conserved, and no conflicts of interest are anticipated.

The committees are asked to submit their planned annual budget for the upcoming year until the 1st of October of the preceding year. The finances of the Committee will be administered by the treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office. The treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office will provide a report on the Committee's finances on an annual basis.

5.2 Young ESPGHAN - Committee for Trainees and Young Investigators

Mission

The Young ESPGHAN Committee is a standing committee of the European Society of Paediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition (ESPGHAN). The work of the Committee aims to:

- a. Contribute to the exchange of scientific information, and to promote high quality research and training in PGHN, by organising workshops, scientific meetings, training courses and disseminating any other suitable resources and opportunities for trainee members in collaboration with the education committee.
- b. To represent the interests of trainees within the Council and society.
- c. Provide advice on matters related to trainees and training within the fields of PGHN to ESPGHAN in liaison with the education secretary.
- d. Shortlist and propose to the Council trainee representatives in the ESPGHAN scientific committees (Gastroenterology, Hepatology, Nutrition) as well as in the ESPGHAN education committee as necessary. These trainee representatives should actively participate in the activities of the relevant committees and report annually to the trainee committee.
- e. Work closely with the education committee to improve training and organize and participate in educational resources and events.
- f. Contribute where appropriate and encourage suitable trainee members to be involved with WG's.

The Young ESPGHAN Committee is part of ESPGHAN and is answerable to the Council of ESPGHAN with regard to its membership, publications and other activities. The Committee aims to have close interaction with the other activities and the overall membership of ESPGHAN.

The Young ESPGHAN Committee will encourage trainee members to present research at ESPGHAN, UEG Week and World Congress meetings in order to qualify for, and progress to, full membership of ESPGHAN.

In collaboration with the Association Administration Office, the Young ESPGHAN Committee will keep a register of trainees and the length of their membership and will remind trainee members of the term of their membership.

Members

The Young ESPGHAN Committee is composed of a chairperson, a secretary and up to three additional members, i.e. a total of up to five members. The Committee members should be represented in the three disciplines of PGHN and should be multi-professional.

Open positions on the Young ESPGHAN Committee need to be advertised to trainee members at least 5 months before the term of office commences and at least twice. Candidates for appointment as members of the Young ESPGHAN Committee are required to submit an expression of interest and a supporting statement to the chair of the Young ESPGHAN Committee. The Individuals considered for appointment will be chosen by the committees and proposed to the Council of ESPGHAN by the acting chair of the committee. Appointments of all Committee members need to be confirmed by the ESPGHAN Council.

Officers and members of the Young ESPGHAN Committee are required to submit a written declaration on potential conflicts of interest upon joining the committee and again at the beginning of every calendar year, and to declare any potential new conflicts of interest as they may arise. These written declarations will be kept by the Association Administration Office for reference.

All members of the committee have full voting rights.

The Young ESPGHAN Committee may, on an ad hoc basis, call on the services of experts in particular areas. These experts would not become full members of the committee.

The members of the Committee and all ad hoc experts involved in the activities of the Committee are obliged to respect full confidentiality of discussions and all written material exchanged. No material and no oral information shall be distributed outside of the committee membership unless expressly agreed to by the chairperson.

Manuscripts will be regarded as strictly confidential until accepted for publication, unless expressly agreed otherwise by the chairperson.

Chairperson and Secretary

The chairperson of the Young ESPGHAN Committee is nominated by the committee and approved by the Council of ESPGHAN and confirmed by ballot by the ESPGHAN membership for a period of three years and will represent the committee as a Council member. A re-election after the three years is not possible.

Nominations need to be announced to the Association Administration Office until the 1st of February of the respective year in order to be put forward to the Council during the Winter Council Meeting. The online ballot should usually be open from the 1st of March until 15 days before the next AGM, in accordance with the ESPGHAN constitution, with the new Council members announced during that AGM.

The chairperson will carry final responsibility for all decisions and actions of the committee. The chairperson will act as the speaker of the Committee in interactions with third parties, unless agreed otherwise. Although the Committee will generally act based on consensus or majority decision, in exceptional circumstances the chairperson's action might need to be taken.

After consultation with the Young ESPGHAN Committee, the chairperson proposes to the Council a Secretary to be appointed for a period of three years which may be renewable once. The Secretary will act as the vice-chairperson and take over the chairperson's function in the event that the chair is unable to fulfil her/ his duties, until the chair can resume her/ his responsibilities, or a new chairperson is appointed.

The Secretary will keep minutes and other relevant records of the activities of the Young ESPGHAN Committee and, at the end of his/her term of office, hand these documents over to the next secretary. Copies should be sent to the Association Administration Office for archiving purposes. The Secretary will support the Chairperson to produce all relevant reports as outlined in Article 4.3 to be lodged with the Association Administration Office.

Officer Terms

The term of office for committee members is three years and runs from AGM to AGM. Every officer can be re-elected once for an additional term of three years. This means that the maximum term of each individual officer is six years.

If the chair or secretary reaches a period of six years during their mandate, they should continue as chair or secretary until the three-year term of the respective position ends. The chairperson and the secretary will stay in office until their successors have been appointed, even if their term has expired, unless the EC nominates an interim officer.

If an officer of the Young ESPGHAN Committee reaches the five-year limit on his/her trainee membership within ESPGHAN in general the transition to full member will not affect his/her position on the committee.

An officer that has to step down from one committee can postulate to become an officer in another committee.

Meetings

The Young ESPGHAN Committee will usually meet at least once yearly, preferably twice yearly, with one of those meetings usually held at the AM of ESPGHAN. The Secretary will be responsible for sending out invitations, a proposal for the agenda, and for writing minutes. The minutes will be approved at the following Committee meeting and signed as a true record upon approval. The costs of the meetings and attendance will be covered from the budget allocated by the Council to the Committees.

Finances

The Committee will accept donations and sponsorship only on the condition that its independence is conserved, and no conflicts of interest are anticipated.

The committees are asked to submit their planned annual budget for the upcoming year until the 1st of October of the preceding year. The finances of the Committee will be administered by the treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office. The treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the ESPGHAN office will provide a report on the Committee's finances on an annual basis.

5.3 Allied Health Professionals (AHP) Committee

Mission

The AHP Committee is a standing committee of ESPGHAN. The work of the Committee aims at promoting high quality practice in the field of PGHN by:

- a. Contributing to the exchange of scientific information and promoting high quality research and training in PGHN, through the organisation of workshops, scientific meetings, training courses and any other suitable approaches and resources identified for AHP's.
- b. Providing advice on matters related to Allied Health within the field of PGHN to ESPGHAN and other scientific societies, regulatory bodies, non-governmental organizations, industry and other interested parties.
- c. Contribute to writing and publishing authoritative commentaries of clinical and scientific relevance on pertinent questions in the area of PGHN.
- d. Shortlisting and proposing AHP members to the Chairs of the ESPGHAN Committees of Gastroenterology, Hepatology, Nutrition and Education for their selection as AHP representative, every three years. AHP representatives will contribute and be actively involved in the work of the Committees and where appropriate identify expert AHP members to be involved with specific ESPGHAN working groups.

The strength and authority of the ESPGHAN AHP Committee depends on its independence. The comment and actions of the Committee is led only by scientific arguments and by its best understanding of the interest of children.

The AHP Committee is part of ESPGHAN and is answerable to the Council of ESPGHAN with regard to its membership, publications and other activities. The rules and standing orders of ESPGHAN, and its Council, supersede anything which the Committee might wish to emplace. The Committee aims for close interaction with the other activities and the membership of ESPGHAN.

Members

The AHP Committee is composed of a chairperson, a secretary and three additional members, i.e. a total of up to five members. The Committee members should represent the three disciplines of PGHN and should be multi-professional. Additional Committee members may be required, as AHP membership within ESPGHAN increases, after approval from Council.

Open positions on the committee need to be advertised to all AHP members at least five months before the term of office commences and at least twice. Candidates for appointment as new officers or members of the AHP Committee are required to submit an expression of interest and a supporting statement to the chair of the AHP Committee. Individuals considered for appointment will be chosen by the committee and proposed to the Council of ESPGHAN by the acting chair of the committee. Appointments of all Committee members need to be confirmed by the ESPGHAN Council.

Except in exceptional circumstances, only two Committee posts will usually be advertised and appointed to in any one year, so as to maintain continuity of the Committee.

Officers and members of the AHP Committee are required to submit to the AHP Committee a written declaration on potential conflicts of interest upon joining the committee and again at the beginning of every calendar year, and to declare any potential new conflicts of interest as they may arise. These written declarations will be kept by the ESPGHAN Administration Office for reference.

All members of the committee have full voting rights.

The AHP Committee may, on an ad hoc basis, call on the services of experts in particular areas. These experts would not become full members of the Committee.

The members of the Committee and all ad hoc experts involved in the activities of the Committee are obliged to respect full confidentiality of discussions and all written material exchanged. No material and no oral information shall be distributed outside of the committee membership unless expressly agreed to by the chairperson.

Manuscripts will be regarded as strictly confidential until accepted for publication, unless expressly agreed otherwise by the chairperson.

Chairperson and Secretary

The chairperson of the AHP Committee is nominated by the committee and approved by the Council of ESPGHAN and confirmed by ballot by the ESPGHAN membership for a period of three years and will represent the committee as a Council member. A re-election after the three years is not possible.

Nominations need to be announced to the office until the 1st of February of the respective year in order to be put forward to the Council during the Winter Council Meeting. The online ballot should usually be open from the 1st of March until 15 days before the next AGM, in accordance with the ESPGHAN constitution, with the new Council members announced during that AGM.

The chairperson will carry final responsibility for all decisions and actions of the committee. The chairperson will act as the speaker of the Committee in interactions with third parties, unless agreed otherwise. Although the Committee will generally act based on consensus or majority decision, in exceptional circumstances the chairperson's action might need to be taken.

After consultation with the AHP Committee, the chairperson proposes to the Council a Secretary to be appointed for a period of three years, which may be renewable once. The Secretary will act as the vice-chairperson and take over the chairperson's function in the event that the chair is unable to fulfil her/his duties, until the chair can resume her/his responsibilities, or a new chairperson is appointed.

The Secretary will keep minutes and other relevant records of the activities of the AHP Committee and, at the end of his/her term of office, hand these documents over to the next secretary. Copies should be sent to the ESPGHAN Administration office for archiving purposes. The Secretary will support the Chairperson to produce all relevant reports as outlined in Article 4.3 to be lodged with the ESPGHAN Administration Office.

Officer Terms

The term of office for all committee members is three years and runs from AGM to AGM. Every officer can be re-elected once for an additional term of three years. This means that the maximum term of each individual officer is six years.

If the chair or secretary reaches a period of six years during their mandate, they should continue as chair or secretary until the three-year term of the respective position ends. The chairperson and the secretary will stay in office until their successors have been appointed, even if their term has expired, unless the EC nominates an interim officer.

The Chair will remain on the Committee for a further twelve months after the end of their three-year term of office to provide continuity during this period of handover.

An officer that has to step down from one committee can postulate to become an officer in another committee.

Meetings

The Committee will usually meet at least twice yearly, with one of those meetings held at the AM of ESPGHAN where possible. The Secretary will be responsible for sending out invitations, a proposal for the agenda, and for writing minutes. The minutes will be approved at the following Committee meeting and signed as a true record upon approval. The costs of the meetings and attendance will be covered from the budget allocated by the Council to the Committees.

Finances

The Committee will accept donations and sponsorship only on the condition that its independence is conserved, and no conflicts of interest are anticipated.

The committees are asked to submit their planned annual budget for the upcoming year until the 1st of October of the preceding year. The finances of the Committee will be administered by the treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office. The treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office will provide a report on the Committee's finances on an annual basis.

Article 6 –Working Groups & Special Interest Groups

6.1 Working Groups

A “working group” (WG) should be a forum of interactive discussion among ESPGHAN-members on a specific topic. A WG may also invite a limited number of non-ESPGHAN members where appropriate to support the goals and work of the WG.

The demand for creation should consist of a letter sent by a “coordinating ESPGHAN-member” to the relevant Committee who should recommend the WG to Council for final approval.

The demand for the creation of a WG to the Committee should contain a plan of action:

1. Aim and objective of the WG
2. Methodology to be used.
3. Timeframe for WG to achieve the goal.
4. Expected number of members in the WG.
5. Expected number of meetings per year (meetings outside the AM are possible).
6. Reporting arrangements to Council.
7. Expected outcome.
8. Communication of outcome through the relevant Committee by preference by publication in JPGN.
9. All financial costs must be agreed in advance and will be financed via the relevant committee allowance.

The timeframe of a specific WG to achieve the “expected outcome” should ideally be restricted, and usually be no longer than three years, with a maximum of five years.

Reporting

The coordinator should provide an annual written report to the relevant Committee chair, by September at the latest in the year preceding the ESPGHAN AM.

Within the framework of this document, the coordinator should also confirm if the WG would like to meet during the ESPGHAN AM. If the coordinator fails to do so, the WG will be considered as “not meeting during the next AM”

Outcomes

Based on the report, the Committee chair will decide on whether the WG is productive or not, and reports to the Council at the Autumn Meeting (during UEG Week) about the progression of each of its WG’s. The Committee Chair will advise Council and decide whether the WG should continue or not. If the WG is considered to be active, the Committee chair will inform the Scientific Secretary before the Autumn Council Meeting (during UEG Week) on the WG applications to meet at the AM. The final choice of the WG’s at the AM is the responsibility of the Scientific Secretary.

6.2 Special Interest Groups

Special Interest Groups (SIG) address topics and issues that require work that extends for periods lasting longer than three years. Any ESPGHAN member with an interest in the respective topic may join a SIG.

- A SIG will be proposed by one or more interested members to the Committee to which the topic is related. The Committee will review the proposal and provide a suggestion to Council for decision.
- The SIG will have a Coordinator or a Steering Committee.
- The SIG will report to the relevant Committee.
- Several project based WG’s may operate within a SIG.
- The SIG may establish relations with external bodies, with the agreement of the relevant Committee and of the Council.
- The SIG may develop educational activities, in agreement with the Education Secretary and the Council.
- The SIG may contribute to the Scientific Program of the AM (through the relevant Committee Chair).
- The SIG coordinator should provide an annual written report to the relevant Committee chair, by September at the latest in the year preceding the ESPGHAN AM. Within the framework of this document, the coordinator should also confirm if the SIG would like to meet during the ESPGHAN AM. If the coordinator fails to do so, the SIG will be considered as “not meeting during the next AM”.
- Based on the report, the Committee chair will determine on whether the SIG is productive or not, and reports to the Council at the Autumn Meeting (during UEG Week) about the progression of each of its SIGs. The Committee Chair will advise Council and decide whether the SIGs should continue or not. If the SIG is considered to be active, the Committee chair will inform the Scientific Secretary before the Autumn Council Meeting (during UEG Week) on the SIG application to meet at the AM.

Structure:

1. The Gastroenterology, Nutrition and Hepatology Committee will retain to have 'Working group's (WGs) and/or 'Special Interest Group's (SIGs). WGs are a forum of interactive discussion and are limited in time. SIGs are independent of time and they comprise a broader group of participants.
2. Members of the WGs/ SIGs must be members of ESPGHAN.
3. All WGs/SIGs should have terms of reference. They should be subject to an annual review process by the respective Committee under which they are functioning before January 1 (Nutrition and Hepatology) and 15th August (Gastroenterology) of each year. This will be facilitated by the annual report (financial and scientific report).
4. All WGs and SIGs decide on their own structure but must have at least a chair and secretary. Larger WGs/SIGs could consider the formation of a core 'active group'. WG's and SIG's cannot be chaired by members of the ESPGHAN Council.
5. All WG/SIG chairs and secretaries must step down after a maximum of six years (three years with potential re-election for a further term). WG chairs and secretaries may be elected by the WGs and SIGs themselves, after which the elected nominee will be proposed to, and ratified by, the respective Committee for formal appointment. Each annual report should contain the names, dates of entry, possible re-election and mandatory exit. Exceptions to prolong terms of WG/SIG chairs and secretaries are at the discretion of the Council, upon recommendation by the respective Committee chair.
6. All WGs/SIGs must have an open component, such as an open meeting at the annual conference. Non-Members may join these open meetings but will have no voting rights and will be encouraged to become ESPGHAN members.
7. Non-members may also be permitted to participate on a specific project, based on the contribution of specialist skills\knowledge, if cleared by the chair and the secretary of the WG/ SIG.
8. Proposals for new WGs and SIGs should be sent to the secretary of the respective Committee under which they propose to function (and copied to the administrative office) by July 1st. The respective Committee will then decide to recommend or not recommend the proposal to council at the autumn meeting for final approval.
9. Specific for Gastroenterology Committee (GIC): The chair (or secretary) for each WG/SIG will be expected to attend, as well as present on and discuss the past and future activities or requests of the group, at the annual strategy day in September each year. Other committees will have the freedom to organise any practical collaborations with the WG/SIG (such as invitation of the chair to a Strategy Day).
10. Specific for Gastroenterology Committee (GIC): Unless there is a representative of the WG/ SIG in the GIC, every WG/ SIG will have a responsible GIC member who will be the liaison between the GIC and the WG/SIG. The annual report should be sent to that responsible GIC member, the GIC Chair, the GIC Secretary, and the Association Administration Office before the 15th August.
11. After each annual ESPGHAN meeting, the website content of the WG/ SIG should be updated with new chairs, secretaries and members, as appropriate.

12. Working Group and Special Interest Group Budget Applications

All SIGs and council approved WGs will receive €6,000 as an operational budget to make it possible to have one additional meeting per year.

Specific for GI Committee: budgets to be discussed during the annual GIC Strategy Day.

The following should not be included in Group applications for budgets and should adhere to the societal application processes as highlighted in Rules and Regulations.

This refers, but is not limited to:

- Guidelines and position papers
- Networking Grants
- Educational Events
- Large Research proposals

13. Creation of New WG/SIG Procedures

For the creation of a new group, a written request must be sent to the Chair of the respective Committee. The Committee will then assess the relevance of the group in accordance with the current needs and demands within ESPGHAN. The request will then be brought to Council for further discussion and a final decision on the formation of the group. In the case of a positive Council decision, the newly formed group will be designated a room for the inaugural meeting during the Annual Meeting within the first year, with no further funding allocated. Upon assessment of the group's activity/functionality within their first year by the respective Committee, further funding may be granted.

Article 8 – Other Committees

The function of the Committees not part of Council is to advise ESPGHAN on all matters within the scope of their mandate. The Committees work on referrals from any member, officer, committee member via their Secretary and also to proactively identify issues and priorities. They meet on an ad hoc basis but at least once a year, preferably at the AM, and report, in writing to the Council.

8.1 Ethics Committee

Function and purpose

The Ethics Committee is to advise ESPGHAN on all matters pertaining to the ethical aspects and implications of the ESPGHAN constitution, and its scientific, educational and advocacy activities (for example conflicts of interest, relations between ESPGHAN members and external organisations). The Committee will work on referrals from any member, officer, committee member via the Secretary. It will meet ad hoc but at least once a year and report, in writing, to the Council.

The Ethics Committee's function and purpose are:

- To advise the membership through the Council on all ethical issues relating to the field of PGHN.
- To consider specific ethical issues raised by the members of ESPGHAN or at the request of the Council.
- To prepare position statements on ethical issues on behalf of the society.
- To initiate and inform debate on ethical issues within the society.
- To liaise with outside agencies at the request of the Council.

Members, Chairpersons and Terms

The Committee is composed of a chairperson and four additional members (to include one representative from AHP Committee and one representative from the Young ESPGHAN Committee), i.e. a total of up to five members.

Open positions on the Committee need to be advertised to all members at least five months before the term of office commences and at least twice. Candidates for appointment as new members of the Ethics Committee should provide a short statement (200 words) indicating the reason for applying and any relevant experience upon application.

The ESPGHAN membership will elect the Committee members by electronic voting by simple majority.

The term of office for all Committee members is three years and runs from AGM to AGM. Every officer can be re-elected once for an additional term of three years. This means that the maximum term of each individual officer is six years.

The chairperson of the Ethics Committee is nominated by the Committee and approved by the Council of ESPGHAN.

The chair shall have tenure for three years commencing from the date of election and will be eligible for re-election for a period of three years.

If the chair reaches a period of six years during their mandate, he/she should continue as chair until the ongoing three-year term of the respective position ends.

In order to prepare for succession planning, a vice chair will be appointed a year before the term of office of the chairman, who will then become chair. Nominations need to be announced to the Association Administration Office until the 1st of February of the respective year in order to be put forward to the Council during the Winter Council Meeting.

The chair shall have authority to invite or co-opt other members of the society or individuals outside the society to advise the committee on specific issues within their field of expertise.

Additional members may also be co-opted such as to recognise the broad representative balance of specialist interests of the society. Co-opted members will normally serve a term of three years, renewable for a single further term of three years by agreement with the chair.

Finances

All committees are asked to submit their planned annual budget for the upcoming year until the 1st of October of the preceding year. The finances of the committees will be administered by the treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office. The treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office will provide a report on the committee's finances on an annual basis.

Reporting

Please see article 4.2.

8.2 Finance and Investment Committee

Function and purpose

This Committee has the following tasks:

- To be informed of as well as comment on the annual financial report of the Treasurer (except the Home Secretary, who advises on aspects of Swiss Law). These comments must be presented to Council by the Treasurer in his/her report.
- To be informed of the overall financial situation of the Society.
- To advise the Treasurer about general plans for investment of financial assets which are not required for the daily activity of the Society.
- To review financial matters as requested by the executive, Council or members.

Members, Chairpersons and Terms

- The Finance and Investment Committee is composed of:
- The Treasurer (chairs the Committee).
- The Home Secretary upon invite (Task description/mandate is outlined in the ESPGHAN Constitution)
- The Past Treasurer.
- One member proposed by the Council and to be approved by the membership via electronic voting for a period of three years (with one possible re-election).

The committee shall have the power to invite advisors if considered necessary.

Additional members may also be co-opted such as to recognise the broad representative balance of specialist interests of the society.

8.3 Public Affairs Committee (PAC)

The PAC coordinates the relations between ESPGHAN and public structures, international agencies, other scientific societies and any other stakeholder, with the aim to raise awareness and to contribute to the solution of problems related to PGHN.

Function and Purpose

Raising awareness among the public and relevant organisations of issues and challenges in the area of PGHN, in particular on child health, clinical practice and research. This is facilitated by interacting with:

- Medical and health journalists and international media outlets
- The European Commission, European Parliament and EU agencies
- International agencies and organisations operating in the healthcare space e.g. WHO, CODEX ALIMENTARIUS
- Patient Associations and other professional and scientific organisations

These interactions will always be discussed with and performed in agreement with the ESPGHAN EC.

Members

The committee will consist of thirteen core members including;

- Committee Chair
- Secretary
- The ESPGHAN President
- Additional one member of the EC.
- The ESPGHAN representative at the PAC UEG.
- The ESPGHAN representative to the European Medicines Agency
- The ESPGHAN International Affairs Representative
- A representative from the ESPGHAN-related Patient and Parent Association

- One representative from the ESPGHAN Committees (GIC, Hepatology, Young ESPGHAN, AHP, Nutrition) to act as liaison with the respective European institutions for each speciality and to represent the interests of each Committee.

Individuals with a particular expertise may be invited to participate on an “ad hoc” basis.

The Chair, and the secretary (acts as deputy chair), will be elected by the Committee members and need to be approved by Council.

The tenure of membership shall be three years from the date of election and is renewable once.

Meetings

The PAC has face to face meetings at least twice a year, one at the AM and the other in Geneva. If necessary, the Chair may convene additional meetings during the year. Moreover, the PAC organises at least two teleconferences a year.

Finances

The Committee will accept donations and sponsorship only on the condition that its independence is conserved, and no conflicts of interest are anticipated.

The committees are asked to submit their planned annual budget for the upcoming year until the 1st of October of the preceding year. The finances of the Committee will be administered by the treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office. The treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office will provide a report on the Committee’s finances on an annual basis.

Reporting

Please see article 4.2.

8.4 Publication Committee

The Joint Publication Committee is a joint committee with NASPGHAN. It includes, from ESPGHAN its the Past President, the President, the Executive Treasurer and the ESPGHAN Editor. The publication committee is co-chaired by the two Past Presidents of ESPGHAN and NASPGHAN. It meets once a year on the occasion of the JPGN strategy day.

Function and Purpose

Its function is to:

- Define JPGN editorial policy in collaboration with the NASPGHAN publication committee.
- Define JPGN strategy in collaboration with the NASPGHAN publication committee.
- Approve the financial report from the ESPGHAN JPGN Editorial Office.
- Maintain relations with counterparts in the NASPGHAN Publication Committee.
- Maintain relations with the Publisher.
- Oversee the selection process and propose the name of the new Editor to the Council.
- Oversee the renewal of the JPGN publisher contract in collaboration with the NASPGHAN publication committee and present its recommendation to the ESPGHAN Council for approval.

Meetings

It meets at least once a year during the ESPGHAN AM together with a representative from the Publisher, and the NASPGHAN Editor if available.

Reporting

Please see article 4.2.

8.5 ESPGHAN Education Committee

The overall aim of the Education Committee (EduCom) is to support ESPGHAN’s aims with regards to education. This includes but is not limited to the support of the Syllabus update, assembling the educational events and web-based learning.

Function and Purpose:

The aim of EduCom is to advise, organize and facilitate the work on the educational activities within ESPGHAN coordinated by the education secretary including:

- Overview and pre-selection of educational activities upon their application
- Syllabus renewal/updates
- ESPGHAN education document maintenance and update
- Coordination and creation web-based learning including microsite and ESPGHAN passport
- Evaluation of educational activities
- Coordination of ESPGHAN training completion certificate
- Coordination of educational activities with other societies (eg. UEG)
- Other educational activities proposed by EduCom or Council and approved by Council

Members

The committee will consist of seven core members including:

- ESPGHAN Education Secretary (Chair, Council member)
- Gastroenterology Committee representative (proposed by GIC)
- Hepatology Committee representative (proposed by HepCom)
- Nutrition Committee representative (proposed by CoN)
- Young ESPGHAN representative (proposed by Young ESPGHAN)
- Additional 2 members selected by the Education secretary/EduCom after an open call to all members for application

The Education Secretary is a Council position elected by all ESPGHAN members for a period of 3 years and will serve as Chair of Committee during this tenure. The Chair position cannot be extended beyond the tenure on Council.

Committee appointed members are elected for a term of 3 years and can be re-elected if still within the terms of their Committee tenure.

Non-committee appointed members can extend for an additional term but must be re-elected by the Education Committee.

Meetings

EduCom will meet once per year on the day prior to the ESPGHAN Annual meeting; all other meetings will be organized as a teleconference. Other face to face meeting will be organized only if necessary and only after approval by the Council.

Finances

All committees are asked to submit their planned annual budget for the upcoming year until the 1st of October of the preceding year. The finances of the committees will be administered by the treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office. The treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office will provide a report on the committee's finances on an annual basis.

Reporting

The Committee will provide a bi-annual written report summarising its activities, suggestions and strategy to the Council. Following review this will be made available to all ESPGHAN members. The written report will be made available for the Winter Council Meeting and AGM.

8.6 ESPGHAN Research Committee

The overall aim of the research committee (ResCom) is to support ESPGHAN's aims with regards to research and science. This includes but is not limited to the administration of research grants, awards, and other funding streams.

Function and Purpose:

The aim of the ResCom is to advise and support ESPGHAN with the distribution of funding streams in respect to research. Specific tasks include, but are not limited to the following

- Administration of ESPGHAN grants (i.e. research grants, networking grants, fellowships) including the organisation of a fair, objective, and transparent peer review process.
- Oversee funding streams and propose adjustments according to need, uptake and overall ESPGHAN strategy

- Ensure adequate accountability of ESPGHAN grant holders, such as provision of progress reports
- Support representation and publication of research activities during annual meetings as well as to the wider public
- Where appropriate liaise with other societies and/or funding bodies to improve and support ESPGHAN's strategy on research and science

Members

The committee will consist of 9 core members including:

- ESPGHAN Scientific Secretary (Chair, Council member)
- Gastroenterology Committee representative (proposed by GIC)
- Hepatology Committee representative (proposed by HepCom)
- Nutrition Committee representative (proposed by CoN)
- Young ESPGHAN representative (proposed by YEC)
- Additional 4 members to be selected by the Scientific Secretary/ResCom after an open call to all members for application

The Scientific Secretary is a Council position elected by all ESPGHAN members for a period of 3 years and will serve as Chair of Committee during this tenure. The Chair position cannot be extended beyond the tenure on Council.

Committee appointed members are elected for a term of 3 years and can be re-elected if still within the terms of their Committee tenure.

Non-committee appointed members can extend for an additional term but must be re-elected by the Scientific Committee.

Meetings

ResCom will meet once per year on the day prior to ESPGHAN Annual meeting. All additional meetings will be organized as a teleconference as required. Any additional face to face meeting will be organized only if necessary and only after approval by the Council.

Finances

All committees, including ResCom are asked to submit their planned annual budget for the upcoming year until the 1st of October of the preceding year. The finances of the committees will be administered by the treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office. The treasurer of ESPGHAN together with the Association Administration Office will provide a report on the committee's finances on an annual basis. The budget for research grants and awards will not form part of the Committee Budget.

Reporting

The research committee acts on behalf of all ESPGHAN members and reports to the council.

The committee will provide a bi-annual report summarising its activities, suggestions, and strategy to the council. Following review this will be made available to all ESPGHAN members. The written report will be made available for the Winter Council Meeting and AGM. Activities including review and administration of ESPGHAN funding streams will be fully transparent to Council and members.

Article 9 - Society Meetings & Meetings Registry

All ESPGHAN Society Meetings (i.e. EC Meetings, Council Meetings, Committee Meetings, Sub-Committee Meetings, Face-to-Face Meetings for Society Publications etc.) need to be registered with the ESPGHAN Administration management Office. An according meeting registration form is made available on the ESPGHAN website. A list of all registered upcoming meetings will be published on the website.

Travel expenses and other refunds will only be applicable to pre-registered meetings.

Article 10 – Affiliated Societies and ESPGHAN Representatives

Endorsement of non-ESPGHAN events

This article concerns the organisation of scientific meetings initiated by members and International meetings under the Aegis of ESPGHAN or using the ESPGHAN logo.

No party, organization or society, foreign to ESPGHAN is allowed to use the ESPGHAN brand name or the ESPGHAN Logo for the organization of scientific meetings, educational materials or e-learning projects unless approved by the Council. Prior to any endorsement the Council will review the Scientific or Educational content and may request changes prior to agreeing endorsement. Any use of the ESPGHAN logo, independent of the ESPGHAN website, in conjunction with commercial interest is strictly prohibited.

1. All projects for scientific meetings under the aegis of ESPGHAN, and initiated by members, must be addressed to the Scientific Secretary at least nine months before the proposed event.
2. The program is proposed by the organisers. It is to be included in the application form (available on the ESPGHAN website or from the Association Administration Office).
3. Financial issues
 - a. To advertise meetings, insert links in the website, announce initiatives in the newsletter costs money and time to the Society. As both parties (organiser and ESPGHAN) become involved in the promotion and success of meetings it is reasonable that the Society may also have some benefit of the financial result of each endorsed meeting.
 - b. Therefore, for meetings from members' initiative, Council has approved that following acceptance of applications a fee proportional to the size of the expected meeting should be applied:
 - i. Meetings of expected attendance of less than five hundred participants: Fee: ten x Regular registration cost (minimum €2,000)
 - ii. Meetings of expected attendance of more than five hundred participants: Fee: fifteen x Regular registration cost
4. For International meetings by other societies the ESPGHAN logo can be used only if ESPGHAN is involved in the organisation of that meeting, is part of the scientific committee of the meeting and Council has approved.
5. Meetings organized primarily for commercial reasons, e.g. meetings organised by professional congress organizers without supervision and control of a reputable non-profit medical or scientific society, will not be endorsed by ESPGHAN.
6. The Scientific Secretary and relevant Committee Chairman (if appropriate) will make a recommendation to Council, based on the information provided, to be validated.
7. The Council will refuse the label ESPGHAN if the above conditions are not respected.
8. Requests of support pertaining to initiatives not event-related can be requested to the ESPGHAN Office, who will delegate to either the Education or Research Committees of ESPGHAN depending on the nature of the initiative, who will assess the relevance and quality of the project. If the project is deemed to be of sufficient scientific or educational quality, the project can be supported with the ESPGHAN logo, after approval of the respective Committee.

Promotion of non ESPGHAN events and non ESPGHAN endorsed events on ESPGHAN website

ESPGHAN does not market any non-ESPGHAN or non-ESPGHAN endorsed events on its website except the World Congress and the UEG-Week.

Endorsement of non-ESPGHAN publications

ESPGHAN does not endorse or promote non-ESPGHAN publications on any of the society's communication channels, unless related to UEG or FISPGHAN.

FISPGHAN and World Congress

ESPGHAN is a founding and full member of Federation of International Societies for Paediatric Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition (FISPGHAN). According to FISPGHAN bylaws it is represented in the FISPGHAN Council by the President and by another member (the Past President if not decided differently).

ESPGHAN contributes to the FISPGHAN budget with an annual fee of currently USD 5,000.-.

ESPGHAN is represented in the SC of the FISPGHAN Congress by representatives from the GI Committee (two, one for endoscopy), Hepatology Committee and Nutrition Committee, and by a member designated to coordinate the presence of ESPGHAN in the WG's.

ESPGHAN Representatives

The Council will appoint representatives of the Society to other organisations as deemed necessary, which may include the UEG, ECCO, EAP, CODEX ALIMENTARIUS, CESP, WHO, and others.

The Society will consider refunding reasonable expenses (economy transport, registration fees and accommodation as required for the appropriate level of representation) to these representatives unless their expenses can be covered from other sources. UEG representatives will be refunded for attending UEG meetings from the UEG.

National Societies

ESPGHAN does not endorse or conduct meetings in collaboration with National Societies. Individual ESPGHAN members can be contacted directly and participate in sessions about ESPGHAN recommendations or guidelines at the initiative of the organisers but will not represent officially ESPGHAN. Therefore, ESPGHAN logo or name must not be used to advertise those events.

ESPGHAN will agree to share public documents, namely guidelines, position papers or Advice guides to any society interested in diffusing these materials among their members. However, translation of any of this material must be provided by that Society, translation should be validated by a National Scientific Society of that country and should bear the special disclaimer stating that the document is based on ESPGHAN guidelines but that ESPGHAN has no responsibility for any mistake occurring during the process of translation and adaptation.

Article 11 - Finances & Annual Budget

The treasurer together with the Association Administration Office will assemble the annual budgets.

All budget requests from committees / sub-committees / officers have to be submitted until the 1st of October of the preceding year. Budget requests need to be submitted by the chairs or editors of the respective committees, sub-committees or editorial boards.

The proposed annual budget will be discussed and approved during the Autumn Council Meeting. Exceptions to these rules are at the discretion of the EC. Allocated annual funds for committees that are not spent on the respective activity within the respective year cannot be used for any other activities within the respective year and cannot be transferred to the following year.

The treasurer controls all financial transactions carried out in relation to ESPGHAN.

An annual audit of the finances of the previous year will be contracted to an external audit company and the results will be presented to the Council during the Summer Council Meeting.

The annual budget of the current year and the financial audit of the previous year will be presented to the membership during the AGM.

Article 12 - Members

Membership procedures for admission to ESPGHAN

Applications for all categories of membership as defined in the Constitution should be made in writing to the GS by 31st of March or 30th of September. Any applicant to be considered for membership must have an active clinical and/or research interest in PGHN. The proposal should be supported in writing by a full or emeritus ESPGHAN member who is not serving at that time on the Council. Each proposal shall be accompanied by the curriculum vitae and list of publications and a meaningful documentation of clinical work in PGHN to an extent as defined by the constitution.

The Council will have the duty to consider the applications, and to give to the membership details of those candidates whom they recommend for membership. The membership has the final decision over the admission of a member by electronic ballot, without having to justify any refusal.

Membership Criteria

Full Member:

Full Members should have a significant track record in PGHN, have at least five years full time post-training experience/employment and must practice/reside within Europe*. Only Full Members in good standing (i.e. having paid their dues) have voting rights at the Annual General Meeting (AGM) and are eligible for functions within the governing bodies of ESPGHAN such as Council and Committees (unless positions are specific to representation of Trainee or Allied Health Professional Members). The option to apply for Full Membership is open for all other Membership categories, upon request, provided that the above criteria are met. Transitions from other member types to Full Member will be subject to the same member voting procedure as all other applications.

From the adoption of this version (June 2021 onwards), existing Full members residing/practising outside Europe*, including those who relocate to a country outside of Europe*, will be converted to Corresponding Member status and will benefit from subsequent lower membership fee. Members can re-apply for Full Member status upon return to a country of residence/practice within Europe*.

Trainee Member: Trainee members shall be members with less than five years' experience in PGHN and must practice/reside within Europe*; trainee membership lasts up to five years; after that period, to remain in the Society, trainee members should apply for full membership. An age limit for applicants of forty years old will be applicable. Special dispensation will be given for applicants who began their training at a later stage. At the time of adoption of this version (June 2021 onwards), existing Trainee Members residing outside of Europe*, including those who relocate, will be converted to Corresponding Membership status, and will benefit from lower registration fees.

AHP Member: Allied Health Professional (AHP) Members shall be members of medically related professions allied to PGHN and must practice/reside within Europe*. This shall include, but not be limited to nurses, dietitians, researchers and another affiliated profession. At the time of adoption of this version (June 2021 onwards), existing AHP Members residing outside of Europe, including those who relocate, will be converted to Corresponding Membership status, and will benefit from lower registration fees.

Corresponding Members: Corresponding members may belong to other FISPGHAN-related societies and/or have an extensive background in Paediatric gastroenterology, hepatology, or nutrition, and/or related allied health profession. Corresponding Members shall fulfil the criteria of the respective Membership category but reside/practice outside Europe*. Corresponding members may apply to the respective membership categories highlighted above, if they change residence/practice to a European country*.

Emeritus Members: Emeritus membership is optional and available to members in good standing who have retired from active practice. They will be entitled to complimentary membership of the Society but will not have voting rights. Members may apply to become emeritus members in writing to the Secretary.

*Within the structures of ESPGHAN, Europe will be defined as per the European Region list of the World Health Organisation: <https://www.who.int/about/regions/euro/en/>.

 This rule will apply for a transition period of one year after the adoption of these changes to ensure an efficient process of conversion for all existing Members residing outside of Europe* to Corresponding Member status.

Membership Fees

The membership fee amount is determined by the Council and approved by the members at the Annual General Meeting (AGM). The deadline for the payment of fees is the 31st December of the respective year. Members applying before March 31 shall be asked to pay their membership fees at the beginning of July once their membership gets active. Those applying before September 30 shall be asked to pay their fees before the end of the respective year (31st December) once their membership gets active. Reminders for unpaid fees shall be sent out one and half months before the AM, and again two months before the end of the year. This applies to all members regardless of the date their membership got active. Members who risk being barred from the Society (those owing three+ years of membership fees) will be sent individual letters signed by the President warning them of the situation and asking them to pay. Members who persist in not paying their annual fees will be debarred from the Society if agreed by Council. If a debarred Member wishes to re-join the society, all previous outstanding dues will need to be settled.

Annual membership fees are as follows:

- i. Full Membership including JPGN online and hard copies: € 150.
- ii. Full Membership from Group B including JPGN online and hard copies: € 120.
(information on Group B available on <http://www.who.int/hinari/eligibility/en/>).
- iii. Allied-Health Professional Membership including JPGN online and hard copies: € 60.
- iv. Trainee Membership including JPGN online and hard copies: € 60.
- v. Corresponding Membership including JPGN online only: €60.
- vi. Corresponding Membership Group B receiving JPGN online only: € 60.
- vii. Emeritus Membership including JPGN online and hard copies: € 70.
- viii. Emeritus Membership not including JPGN: No Charge (optional JPGN online access € 45).
- ix. Special Cases requiring reduced fees will be reviewed by the Treasurer when necessary.

Half Term membership fees are currently as follows:

- i. Full Membership including JPGN online and hard copies: € 75.
- ii. Full Membership Group B including JPGN online and hard copies: € 60.
- iii. AHP Membership including JPGN online and hard copies: € 30.
- iv. Trainee Membership including JPGN online and hard copies: € 30.
- v. Corresponding Membership including JPGN online only: € 30.
- vi. Corresponding Membership Group B including JPGN online only: € 30.
- vii. Emeritus Membership including JPGN online and hard copies: €35.
- viii. Emeritus Membership not including JPGN: no charge (optional JPGN online access € 25).

Article 13 – Annual Meeting

ESPGHAN AM's are organised at the initiative of ESPGHAN and approved by the AGM. The overall programme will be arranged by the organiser of the next meeting together with the Scientific Committee and in consultation with the Executive Council and the Council. An objective of the Society is to encourage the inclusion of recent and not necessarily completed research work at the annual scientific meeting.

Final profits from the AM must be split as follows: 90% to ESPGHAN and 10% to local organiser for a non-profit purpose in line with the goals of ESPGHAN defined in the ESPGHAN constitution, supporting either research, clinical or educational activities. The local organiser, after consultation with the LOC and the national PGHN society, should determine an organisation with a documented non-profit status to which the 10% share can be transferred. The 10% will be transferred after a letter signed by the local organiser and the president of the national PGHN has been approved by ESPGHAN Council. The local organiser will be personally responsible that the use of the funds for non-profit purposes following the ESPGHAN constitution is documented and reported to ESPGHAN by the end of the calendar year.

13.1 Bidding for Organisation of the Annual Congress

Proposals for organising the annual scientific meeting and the local organiser should be made in writing, to the congress organising Office (PCO) by the 1st of November following a call for proposals for a specific year published by the society. The application should be approved by the relevant national society. An agreement between the LOC Chair and the local/national society in relation to the 10% surplus payment must be included as part of the application process. The PCO will screen applications based on venue size, accessibility to both the venue city and the venue itself, hotel rooms available etc. in an application form provided by the PCO. Only applicants deemed appropriate will be contacted to bid. A shortlist of potential destinations shall be given to the GS by the 7th of January. All bids will be handled and assessed by the PCO and the assessment and suggestions will be provided to Council and voted by ESPGHAN members at the AGM.

13.2 Reimbursement of Faculty Members during the ESPGHAN AM

ESPGHAN will invite speakers to present state-of-the-art lectures, keynote lectures and presentations at Post Graduate Courses and Symposia. Financial support will be provided from the AM budget as detailed below and the following rules apply:

13.3 Organisation of Symposia at the Annual Congress

At AM's, up to twelve symposia can take place.

The GI Committee will select the topics of five-six symposia, the Committee of Nutrition will select (one-three) and the Committee of Hepatology will select (one-three). The three committees will select and propose to the AM SC preferred topics from the suggestions of the ESPGHAN members. Council may also suggest topics for Symposia to the AM SC.

Members who would like to propose a symposium should send a letter or an e-mail to the chairman of the committee to which the topic is related, at least eleven months before the AM. The committees will select the topics and propose two chairpersons for each symposium, primarily based on the indications of the members putting forth the proposals. The list of symposia, as proposed by the committees will be considered by the AM SC and be given final approval by the ESPGHAN Council at the Autumn Council Meeting. Official invitations to speakers will be sent after the Autumn Council Meeting by the congress organiser of the AM.

The selected chairs of each symposium will interact, in cooperation with the AM SC, in order to determine the scientific program. Two hours will be allowed for each symposium.

Satellite Symposia

The programme of a satellite symposium must be of general scientific content. The satellite symposium programme must be submitted to the organisers in advance of the event and approved by ESPGHAN (ESPGHAN president or a Council member assigned by the President, preferably the chair of the scientific committee).

The chairperson of the satellite symposium should not be employed by or otherwise dependent on the sponsoring company but be a health care professional or academician not employed by a company related to the symposium. This includes former or retired employees. The chairperson has a responsibility to oversee that the messages and conclusions presented during the symposium are based on available scientific data. The sponsor should inform the chairperson(s) of this responsibility. In addition, the holder of a satellite symposium and the chairperson are jointly responsible for adhering to the assigned time slot of the symposium.

13.4 Rules for the Organisation of AHP & Postgraduate Courses in Connection with the Annual Congress

AHP and Postgraduate Courses organised during the AM should follow the following rules:

- They should take place in the same venue as the AM.
- The scientific programme needs to be confirmed by the SC and the Council.
- The budget needs to be confirmed by the MC.
- The logistics (e.g. meeting rooms, AV, registration) will be handled by the PCO of the AM if no other agreements have been taken.

As a general rule, speakers for the post graduate courses should aim to have a 50/50 balance of speakers from the main programme and unique speakers. This will be dependent on topic and choice of speakers and will be reviewed upon submission of the respective programmes.

Article 14- Relationship with Industry

1. ESPGHAN accepts support from outside sources including industry, for educational, scientific and professional activities. Such support is subject to the principals outlined in this document.
2. ESPGHAN will not explicitly endorse any product or company.
3. The ESPGHAN logo may not be used in a way that indicates or suggests ESPGHAN endorsement of a particular product, brand or company or of a company's policies unless explicit consent is given by ESPGHAN.
4. ESPGHAN is responsible for deciding on its own educational, scientific and professional objectives, priorities and contents.
5. ESPGHAN is responsible for appointing any persons or organisations that may influence or evaluate its activities.
6. Any educational and scientific activity receiving commercial/industry support must have a clear and explicitly stated purpose in keeping with the Mission of ESPGHAN (article 3 of the Constitution) and be documented.

7. Acceptance by ESPGHAN of an unrestricted grant from industry does not imply that ESPGHAN will use its influence to support the company's interests beyond the specific arrangement itself.
8. ESPGHAN must sign an agreement defining the relationship, its duration and the responsibilities of the respective parties.

Article 15 - Education Partner Programme

The ESPGHAN Education Partner Programme (EPP) was launched in 2015. Based on the 2015 adopted ESPGHAN Code of Conduct, the EPP has been developed and implemented to ensure the on-going evolution of an up-to-date, independent, high quality educational programme for health care professionals. The dedicated support and financial commitment from our founding partners helps in enhancing support for ESPGHAN's educational activities.

EPP Main Goals

- The main goals of the partnership are to further develop and foster sustainable and trustworthy relationships between ESPGHAN and its key industry partners, who invest in and support public good and public trust.
- ESPGHAN aims to secure educational grants to support ESPGHAN's EPP activities such as Summer Schools, International Schools, Young Investigators Forum and Master Classes, with the aim to provide activities that are of high value to participating health care professionals and support best standards of paediatric health and medicine.
- It is the objective of ESPGHAN to deliver educational activities under conditions that protect the credibility and integrity of both ESPGHAN and its key industry partners.

Collaboration between ESPGHAN and EPP Partners

Within the programme all EPP partners will be treated equally and transparently. Although the EPP will be affiliated to specific educational activities, no EPP partner will be permitted to control or influence the choice of organisers, the meeting venue, the content of programs, and the selection of the speakers and delegates or of candidates to receive educational support in the form of journal subscriptions or society membership.

Each EPP partner will pay to ESPGHAN an educational grant of €50.000 per EPP year. EPP partners will be invoiced by ESPGHAN before the end of the first month of the EPP year with a requirement of payment within one calendar month.

Meetings

ESPGHAN will hold two EPP Meetings per year with all EPP Partners in Geneva. The first meeting will be held in late September and the second will be held in February.

Article 16 - Rules for the Organisation of ESPGHAN Educational Events

Finances

The Education Partner Programme provides the financial framework to organise educational events. The annual EPP budget will be decided during the Autumn Council Meeting. The ESPGHAN Council will decide which events should be included in the upcoming Education Partner Programme. In order to qualify for EPP the course chair needs to submit an event application to the Association Administration Office until the 12th of September of the preceding year. The course chairs will be informed on the approval of their application after the Autumn Council Meeting. Non-EPP events may be funded by ESPGHAN, pending Council approval.

The financial handling of all ESPGHAN educational events is supervised by the ESPGHAN treasurer and handled by the Association Administration Office. Any income generated from ESPGHAN educational events must be paid to ESPGHAN and all expenses related to ESPGHAN educational events will be paid directly by ESPGHAN. Any surplus generated by an ESPGHAN educational event will remain within the ESPGHAN Budget.

ESPGHAN reserves the right to hold other Educational Events outside of the EPP. This may be in collaboration with one or all EPP Partners and/or other sponsors. These Educational Events must follow the ESPGHAN educational activities Code of Conduct. These additional events will be funded outside of EPP and the sources of funding will be acknowledged at the events. All payments and contractual agreements between additional sponsors relating to educational events must be made directly through, and handled by, the Administrative Office, and not through the local organiser.

For all ESPGHAN events, budgets for social/networking events should not exceed 10% of the entire budget allocated. Exceptions require Treasurer pre-approval. Course chairs can also apply to additional non-commercial/ public funding sources (e.g. UEG training support).

Scientific Programme

The scientific programme will be drafted by the course chair / organiser and approved by Council. It is expected that a programme/syllabus put together by the faculty will be available for distribution to all participants at the time of the course.

Faculty and Course Chair

- Each event should consist of five to seven Faculty members that are ESPGHAN Members.
- Faculty should not receive any honorarium for their teaching activities, nor should the organisers for their efforts.
- Faculty should be transparent about financial relationships that could potentially influence educational activities.

Venue

- Each Venue should be preferably within one hour driving distance from the airport.
- It should be hospital or university-based lecture halls, or Hotel based conference rooms, preferably in a residential environment in order to facilitate close relations between delegates and faculty members.
- Venues located within industry facilities related to infant food, medical food, or pharmaceutical or medical device companies should be avoided.

Cooperation with a Destination Management Company (DMC)

A DMC must be appointed should the number of participants exceed 50 (excluding faculty). In case of a cooperation the tasks of the DMC will include but are not limited to:

- Research appropriate venue, hotel and social programme
- Draft a detailed and reliable cost break down for all services included
- Provide a detailed contract/agreement to the PM
- Work closely with the PM and the LOC on any financial and organizational aspect

The DMC admits to running all supplier contracts past the PM for approval.

Language

All ESPGHAN Educational Events are held in English.

Event Application

In order to apply for an ESPGHAN Educational Event the Course Chair needs to be an ESPGHAN Full Member.

- The Course Chair needs to be elected and approved by Committee/National Society/Working Group/SIG/YIF Faculty.
- The application process requires an application prior to each planned ESPGHAN Educational Event by the Course Chair before the 12th of September each year.
- The application needs to be submitted together with the application form, including a preliminary budget and programme draft.
- The application will be reviewed by the EC and presented to the Council during the Autumn Council Meeting. After final approval by the Council, the Course Chair will be notified by the Association Administration Office about Educational Event approval and Budget given by the ESPGHAN Council.
- Ad hoc applications are generally not accepted, and all planned educational Events need to be submitted with the respective application and documents. Rare exceptions can be made, after consultancy with the treasurer.
- As a general rule, the following schools will take place annually: three x GI events (in addition to one endoscopy course and one IBD course), two x Nutrition events, two x Hepatology events, one x Young Investigator Forum, one x Eastern European School, one x Mentorship Programme and one x AHP event.
- Cost structures for application of budget will be as follows:
 - the Summer Schools of Gastroenterology, Nutrition, Hepatology/Transplantation, Monothematic Conference Hepatology (annually), Masterclass IBD (annually), Endoscopy Masterclass or Summer School (annually) – up to €50.000
 - for all other meetings the standard budget is up to 35k

Exceptions to this rule can only be asked for on specific grounds (such as related to length and/or number of participants) and are solely at the discretion of the Executive Committee.

- ESPGHAN will, as a general rule, place a registration fee of at least EUR 100 on all EPP events except for AHP schools and YIF (EUR 50.00). Registration fees for Members will be capped at EUR 200.00. Exceptions require a detailed explanation and Treasurer approval.

If the number of applications exceed budget, events will be selected and scored on criteria including (but not limited to):

- Topic/educational/scientific content (quality, relevance, demand).
- Accessibility of city/country (close to international airports).
- Venue (cost, location within airport transfer distance).
- Overall costs (including catering, social programme etc.).

Attendance of events by Members and Non-Members

- ESPGHAN Members may attend two courses throughout the Educational Year. Any applications exceeding two events will be delegated to the EC for approval.
- The course chair will dictate the requirements for applicants. These may include a letter of support or recommendation, a letter of motivation for attendance or an abstract submission to ensure the target audience is adhered to.
- Priority for attendance at events will be given to ESPGHAN Members.
- Travel expenses will be reimbursed up to 300€ for Summer Schools, Young Investigator Forum, Eastern Summer Schools and Young ESPGHAN Mentorship Programme.
- For other educational events travel expenses will not be covered. However, if budget allows, attendees from lower income countries can be reimbursed. Justification must be included in the application process and approved by the Council.
- For Non-Members, priority will be given to European Delegates (incl. Israel and Turkey).
- Non-Members are limited to one event. If a non-member would like to attend future events, they must apply and be accepted as an ESPGHAN Member. One more event can be allowed during the process if an application has already been submitted.
- A member who subscribed but did not attend without justification will be banned from attending other courses.

Reporting

It is the responsibility of the Education Secretary to report on all educational events at Council Meetings (See Article 4.2). Information for reports will be made available via the Association Administration Office and the Course Chair. Event reports will be available on the website in a designated event area. It is the responsibility of the Organiser of the event to ensure evaluation forms are submitted within two weeks, post event.

Article 17 - Rules for Societal Publications (Guidelines & Position Papers)

Societal publications are published in the name of ESPGHAN and represent the official opinion and recommendations of ESPGHAN about specific childhood health issues. In accordance with the ESPGHAN Code of Conduct, Societal Publications should focus on scientific, clinical or public health issues, not on commercial products or services. All Societal publications should be published in JPGN and are posted on the ESPGHAN website. When other organisations are involved, publication in JPGN should be preferred or a joint publication with another journal representing the other organisations.

Working groups/Special Interest Group (WG/SIG) may also develop manuscripts that report on their work/research, reviews of current information, or opinions. Such manuscripts are not considered “Societal Papers” and may be published under the responsibility of the authors, generally in the JPGN, but will not be posted on the ESPGHAN website. A disclaimer must be added to the publication stating that “Although this paper is produced by the ESPGHAN WG/SIG XXX it does not necessarily represent ESPGHAN policy and is not endorsed by ESPGHAN”.

Definitions

There are two types of Societal Publications:

An ESPGHAN Guideline is a comprehensive document that addresses specific clinical research questions and abides by the rules of evidence-based medicine (EBM) for guideline development.

Public consultation will be provided for all societal guidelines. The manuscript will be made available on the ESPGHAN website to collate comments and suggestions for the respective paper. A link to the paper will be provided in the nearest Newsletter. The consultation process will be open to Member comments for ten days. The authors are not bound to make any changes based on this consultation.

An ESPGHAN Position Paper addresses a topic for which guidance is necessary but due to limited scientific evidence, the recommendations are based on expert consensus. Voting is encouraged when appropriate but is not a necessity.

ESPGHAN Guidelines and Position Papers are published on behalf of the Society, in the JPGN, are listed on the ESPGHAN website, and include the ESPGHAN name in the title. These represent the official position of ESPGHAN and are published after a detailed peer review and approval by ESPGHAN Council.

Societal Publications include the following disclaimer: “ESPGHAN is not responsible for the practices of physicians and provides Guidelines and Position Papers as indicators of best practice only. Diagnosis and treatment are at the discretion of the health care provider”.

Proposals for a Guideline or Position Paper

Committees/WG/SIG intending to produce a Guideline or Position Paper should submit a proposal (see submission forms on the website) to the ESPGHAN Secretary, who will coordinate a review of the proposal by Council. Proposals of a WG/SIG should first be reviewed by the respective Committee Chair who may involve the Committee. The proposal should define the topic, the research questions addressed, the professionals involved, the literature search strategy, the method of consensus development, the proposed group(s) to be involved in the consensus process, the proposed journal for publication (preferably JPGN), any financial requirements. All proposed collaborators should upload a current declaration of interests (DOI) on the ESPGHAN website. The ESPGHAN office will check on the completeness of the DOIs so that they are available for Council review.

The Council's response will be within two weeks. This may include recommendations on refinement of the research questions or the involvement of other groups. However, if significant issues arise the review might take more time. Council approval of the proposal is mandatory if the name of ESPGHAN is to appear in the publication title.

Proposals for all societal papers will have a timeframe of two years from acceptance as a societal paper to submission for publication. If two years have expired and the paper has not been submitted for publication, Council will review the progress and circumstances and decide whether to continue with the papers development or terminate the proposal.

Topics addressed

ESPGHAN guidelines or position papers should address pertinent topics of high relevance for clinical practice, policy or research and should aim to arrive at conclusions that are helpful for practice. They should not focus on or promote commercial products or services and should avoid citing commercial brand names. A mere repetition of previously published information will usually not justify the publication of a Societal paper.

Selection of involved professionals

The selection of involved professionals should be based on their qualification in the field to be addressed. A mixed composition with respect to area of expertise, gender, and geographic location is recommended.

Methodology

For ESPGHAN Guidelines a systematic literature search in at least three databases is mandatory. ESPGHAN may agree to appropriate requests for funding external outsourcing of the literature search and data extraction in evidence tables. For ESPGHAN Position papers a systematic review of the literature published during the five preceding years in at least one database (e.g. PubMed), but preferably with more than one database, based on a predefined search strategy with key words is recommended. Key papers published prior to those five years which are cited in manuscripts retrieved or known to the experts involved should also be considered. At least two members of the lead authors should review all manuscripts considered. Guidelines should use the GRADE system to classify the level of evidence and the strength of recommendations.

Consensus development

For all Societal publications that include statements and recommendations, the authors should reach a consensus. For Guidelines, this can be done using the Delphi process. This can be done with an electronic platform provided by ESPGHAN (currently Clinical Guidelines Services, <http://www.guideline-services.com>). The results of the voting process should be disclosed in the manuscript (or as supplementary information). Only statements and recommendations reaching 80% agreement will be accepted.

Review process

The manuscript, once agreed upon and approved by the lead authors / GDG as well as the respective Committee/SIG/WG, should be submitted as a Societal paper on the JPGN platform. The General Secretary (GS) invites at least two anonymous reviewers who are experts in the field but have not been involved in the development of the respective manuscript. The reviews are shared with the authors who revise the manuscript.

The revised manuscript and external reviews are then submitted for Council review on the JPGN platform. This will be applicable also for joint documents published elsewhere. All Council members are requested to submit comments and vote either as “approve”, “minor concerns raised”, “major concerns raised”, or “reject”. Those without sufficient expertise in the area can declare that they abstain. Council should aim to complete the process within four weeks. No response from a Council member will be regarded as acceptance.

Authors will upload a revised manuscript on the JPGN platform, and the reviewers will be re invited to seek their approval.

If any Council member votes for “major concerns raised” or “reject”, a discussion will be held (usually by telephone) to resolve the issue involving Council members who have not abstained. In the case of continuing disagreement, the President, GS and JPGN Editor will make a final decision. If the authors disagree with the review decision, they can submit the manuscript to another journal, but not as an ESPGHAN document i.e. the name ESPGHAN may not appear in the title.

When the manuscript is “approved” the manuscript is forwarded for publication, only after the Office has ensured that all DOI s are uploaded on the ESPGHAN website.

Review of Joint ESPGHAN-NASPGHAN Societal papers

The ESPGHAN and NASPGHAN editors take turns as lead to coordinate the review of joint papers on the JPGN platform. The review process is similar and simultaneous for both societies (4 reviewers). All comments are forwarded to the authors for revision. According to NASPGHAN protocol, a joint publication will be advertised on the ESPGHAN website for membership consultation after acceptance by Council.

Recommendations for Authors

ESPGHAN encourages the author group to take into account the following considerations:

- Inclusion of CME questions
- To summarise the main points of societal papers in bullet point form (recommendation of five) for translation by national Societies
- To notify Council if a certain guideline might be appropriate for public dissemination and if so, to provide a shortened, easily digestible summary of the main points to be adopted

- Authors are encouraged to consider practical aspects in lower income countries where guideline recommendations may not be applicable
- Inclusion of Patient and Parent Groups in the consultation and review processes of societal papers

The above points will be at the discretion of the authors, and preferences should be indicated on the application forms for societal papers.

Approval and funding of societal papers

Each proposal for a societal paper, regardless whether it originates from a Committee, SIG, WG, or other group within ESPGHAN, needs to be first approved by either the GIC, the CoN or the HepCom. Thereafter, the proposal must be approved by the Council at the respective Council Meeting.

It is assumed that most societal papers are written without the need for special funding. If funding is needed, an application for funding can be sent to the chair of the responsible Committee (GIC, CoN or HepCom). This should be done only after the approval of a societal paper by the EC or Council.

The GIC has an annual budget of 30,000 Euro and the CoN and HepCom has a budget of 15,000 Euro each for the production of societal papers. The decision how to distribute this amount among the different proposed position papers will be made by the GIC/CoN and HepCom chair and secretary and communicated by them to both the applicants and the treasurer.

Article 18 – JPGN

The Society will edit a journal by an elected representative in order to further the purpose of the Society, i.e., the general policy of the Journal shall be decided by the Council. The Council shall elect an Editor for five years and he/she will not be eligible for re-election except under extraordinary circumstances.

1. A candidate for an Editor may be proposed to the Council in writing to the General Secretary the 7th of January in the year of electing an Editor.
2. Five to ten members of the Society will be elected by the Council in agreement with the Editor for the Editorial Board, which will meet annually at the time of the AGM.
3. The Editor shall attend the Council meeting once a year.
4. The Journal of the Society may be shared on equal terms with other society/ies who have the same purpose. Under such circumstances the editorial boards should meet annually.

The following rules apply:

1. The Editor in chief is entitled to administer directly the allocated budget received from ESPGHAN and Wolters Kluwer (LWW).
2. Income to the Editorial Office is composed of an annual amount from LWW stated in the contract) and an allowance from ESPGHAN.
3. The Editor-in-Chief position is based on application after a specific call from the Society. The Editor is assisted by the Managing Editor of ESPGHAN. ESPGHAN Council appoints the Managing Editor, and he/she is responsible for all technical aspects and day to day activities within the journal.
4. The Editor in Chief must present a financial report to Council, through the Treasurer. Requests for revision of the allowance must be justified prior to the presentation of the annual budget by the Treasurer at the Winter Council meeting. The annual budget of the Society will include the approved allowance.
5. The allocated budget as mentioned above shall be used at the discretion of the Editor in Chief for all relevant expenses of the Journal, except for the following:
 - a. Annual Strategy Meeting of the Publication Committee, which is covered by LWW;
 - b. Attendance to the annual ESPGHAN Strategy day and Winter Council meeting for annual report, covered by the ESPGHAN Council budget.

Please Note: Awards and Grants are given only to ESPGHAN Members except award relating to the Annual Meeting.

19.1 Charlotte Anderson Travel Grant

Purpose and scope: The Travel Grant is intended to support Young Investigators who wish to travel and visit another unit either for the purposes of learning a new technique, carrying out a short project or observing a different system at work. The Grant will be presented at the ESPGHAN AM every year.

Amount: Up to €5,000

Eligibility

- The applicant must be an ESPGHAN Member in good standing (any type)
- The applicant should be a young investigator / clinician with less than ten years in the sub-speciality
- Applicant supervisors of both institutions ("home" and institute to be visited) must ESPGHAN Members in good standing
- The project is to be carried out within Europe.
- The exchange project must be completed within one year after the date of approval

Application

Complete application must be sent to ESPGHAN office and the following will apply:

1. Confirmation letter issued by the visited Institution and co-signed by supervisors of home and visited centres. This should confirm the dates and aims of the visit.
2. A letter of intent including a brief description of the planned project / visit and likely benefit to the applicant and/or host institution.
3. A current CV

Deadline: Applications can be made throughout the year

Selection Criteria

ESPGHAN wishes to promote the learning of any techniques / expertise not available in the home institution. Examples include: an exchange visit to acquire specific diagnostic / therapeutic endoscopy skills, to learn a relevant laboratory technique, to learn how to set up / provide a specific service model (e.g. impedance, manometry, national registry or biobank).

Selection Process

- The process is coordinated by the General Secretary
- ESPGHAN Council will review the applications independently
- The applicant will receive notification no later than six weeks after receipt of application

Reporting and disbursement of the fund:

- Within one month:
 1. Completion of, a one-page summary of the exchange and its achievements signed by the supervisor of the host institution
 2. A statement on the use of finances addressed to ESPGHAN Treasurer incl. all relevant receipts
- Funds will only be released after the receipt of the above-mentioned report and financial statement incl. copies of the according receipts. Exceptions to this rule are at the discretion of the treasurer.

19.3 The ESPGHAN-NASPGHAN Travel Grant

Purpose and Scope

The Travel Grant is intended to support the expenses of a Trainee Member who wishes to travel and visit a unit in the US (for European applicants) or Europe (for US applicants) either for the purposes of learning a new technique, carry out a short project or of observing a different health system at work.

Specification: Provisional approval for the visit/project should be obtained prior to the application from the applicant's own department and the department to be visited. The Travel Award will not be available to attend meetings or conferences and will be awarded on alternative years to a US or European applicant. Funding will be awarded alternately from ESPGHAN or NASPGHAN as appropriate. Funding will be awarded alternately from ESPGHAN or NASPGHAN as appropriate and will be paid directly to the successful applicant. If the applicant is unable to take part in the visit/exchange for any reason, the sum in full must be returned to the awarding society and the head of the department of the successful applicant must guarantee that this happens. Additional funding will not be provided to supplement these visits.

Amount:

5000USD/€5000

Selection Process

The applications will be considered by the respective Councils for each of their member applicants. The Council members may make the decision themselves or appoint a selection committee with relevant experience. Members of the Selection Committee are not eligible to apply for the award. Members should not participate in the evaluation of an applicant if they work at the same institution as the applicant or have worked with the applicant at the same institution in the recent past. Members should not participate in the evaluation of an applicant if there is any conflict of interest.

Application

The applicant must send the completed application to the Association Administration Office by 30 May of the year that travel award is funded by ESPGHAN. The application must include:

1. A completed application form.
2. Applicants' curriculum vitae (max. three pages).
3. Brief description of proposed project or visit and the likely benefit to the applicant and/or their host institution or patient population.
4. Budgetary details on how the money will be used to finance the visit.
5. Two letters of recommendation are requested:
 - a. One from the host institution giving the necessary permission for the visit; and
 - b. One from the unit to be visited which should include agreement for the visit and indicate what support will be provided to ensure the exchange will be successful.

This latter letter should specify the time available for supervision, research opportunity (if relevant), space, equipment etc.

Reporting

The award winner will be required to submit a written report (including an accounting of how the award monies were spent) of their visit to both Councils within six months of the completion of their visit and present a written report of the outcome to the AGM at the annual meetings of their respective Society.

19.4 Research & Networking Grants

Purpose and scope: The Research and Networking grants are intended to support research activities and networking among centres at an international level. Funding should be utilised within 2 years once approved.

Specifications:

- The funding provision is for five projects maximum per year.
- The funding of the project will be handled through the main applicant's Institution.
- Selected applicants will be required to complete and sign the agreement letter as well as to provide administrative and financial details of all collaborating centres.
- The money will be transferred only to accounts of academic or hospital centres, not to private accounts.
- The networking grant funds cannot be used to pay salaries for more than 10% of the total budget (EUR 5.000). However, if necessary, no more than 3 different centres participating in the project can ask for the amount of 10% of the budget for personnel. In other words, no more than 15.000 of the 50.000 can be used to pay salaries. The funding can be extended over two years but annual reports on activity are required to be made in writing to the relevant AGM of ESPGHAN by the main applicant.
- In the event of a publication arising from the research carried out as part of this grant, ESPGHAN should be credited with the following sentence: "This work was supported by an ESPGHAN Networking Grant".
- It is understood that the funds will be returned if the conditions above are not adhered to.

Amount: up to a maximum of €50,000

Eligibility:

1. The main applicant should be an ESPGHAN Member.
2. Collaboration must involve more than one country

3. Collaboration between at least two ESPGHAN members located in different centres (Non-ESPGHAN members may form part of the proposed network, but only in collaboration with ESPGHAN members).

Selection criteria: The nature of the networking between the centres can range from interactive educational events, clinical networks, etc., and should be aimed at promoting clinical excellence and the furtherance of knowledge. We urge members to be innovative, interdisciplinary and inclusive at an international level. Proposals that are relevant to, or arise from, ESPGHAN activities, e.g. validation of guidelines, clinical networks for testing treatment regimens/disease management, etc., will be particularly welcomed.

Each project will be assessed against the following criteria:

- Collaboration involves more than one country
- Collaboration between two or more ESPGHAN members in different centres
- Confirmation that application for funding of this, or a similar, project has not been made to another
- A budget is submitted by the main applicant that includes details for each collaborating centre
- Project's relevance to ESPGHAN
- Applicant's scientific merits
- Applicant's organisational merits
- Originality of the project
- Feasibility of the project

Selection process:

The process is coordinated by the General Secretary

The proposal will be evaluated by a panel appointed by Council and a decision will be made by October 30th each year.

Application:

Complete application must be sent to ESPGHAN office and the following will apply:

1. Completed and signed application form
2. Current CV (maximum of three pages A4) of the main applicant
3. A description of the networking project (up to three sides of A4) detailing the aims, methods, plan of work, and division of labour within and between the collaborating centres
4. An explanation of the value of the work and its relevance to ESPGHAN
5. A summary of the project in lay terms (one paragraph)
6. A proposed budget including a detailed description of the grant coordination and distribution amongst centres (type of costs, amounts and timeframe)
7. A letter from the main applicant's finance officer confirming they are willing to administer the project budget
8. A letter from the Institution Director or similar Officer that the facilities required for the work are available in the Institution
9. The names and contact details of two referees who the applicant feels can assess the proposal

Deadline: Application must be sent to Association Administration Office before 31 July each year.

Reporting and disbursement of the fund:

- The funding of the project will be handled through the main applicant's Institution, such as:
 - o The money will be transferred with the following modality: 30% at the beginning, 50% at the end of the first year after providing a report on the progress of the study, and 20% at the end.
 - o The funding will be provided by ESPGHAN only on receipt of the respective invoices (Any transfer of funds will require a prior request with a detailed description of the budget items, including how the money will be distributed among centres).
- The main applicant will provide a final written report to the ESPGHAN Secretary and a final budget statement to the ESPGHAN Treasurer within three months of the completion of the project.
- The funding can be extended over two years at the discretion of the ESPGHAN Treasurer.

19.5 ESPGHAN Annual Meeting Young Investigator Awards (YIA)

Purpose and scope: The ESPGHAN Annual Meeting Young Investigator Award is intended to support expenses for Young Investigators (including AHP, Trainees, Scientists, and non ESPGHAN members) who have had an abstract accepted for presentation at the ESPGHAN Annual Meeting.

Specification: The grant will help cover the travel, Visa application and accommodation costs within host meetings countries. Costs that can also be covered by this grant include congress registration up to Early bird fee; registration to PIBD, Postgraduate and AHP courses taking place during ESPGHAN Annual Meeting. All listed costs will be covered up to the value of the award.

Amount: up to €1,000

Eligibility:

- The applicant should be a young investigator / clinician with less than ten years in the sub-speciality:
 - o Medically qualified applicants should be in a training position, i.e. have not qualified in PGHN, nor have achieved a staff position;
 - o Applicants should not be well established funded researchers
 - o Full ESPGHAN members are not eligible for this award
- The applicant should have received less than 3 YIA in the past
- The applicant should be the first (main) presenter of the abstract selected
- The applicant should be supported by full member in good standing (i.e. without any outstanding dues) of the Society. In the case of AHP applicants, support letters can be submitted from AHP Members in good standing.

Application:

Complete application must be sent to ESPGHAN office and the following will apply:

1. Completed and signed application form
2. Support letter from an ESPGHAN member in a good standing (or AHP member in good standing for AHP applicants)
3. Proof of abstract selection for presentation, confirming applicant as first (main) presenter
4. Applicant current CV

Deadline: application deadline will be set at least 1 month prior to the AM and announced on ESPGHAN website and ESPGHAN newsletter.

Selection Criteria: Those who have received one or two awards previously or who live from regions close to the conference may receive a reduced award due to lower travel costs. In case the number of applications exceeds the number of awards available, the treasurer may at his/her discretion either select from those applications that fulfil all criteria on a first come first serve basis (but may give priority to applicants that are in particular need e.g. from low income countries), or may adjust funding to maximise attendance.

Selection Process:

- The process is coordinated by the ESPGHAN Treasurer
- ESPGHAN Council will review the applications independently
- The applicant will receive notification no later than 2 weeks after application deadline to allow early birds applications to the ESPGHAN Annual Meeting.

Reporting and disbursement of the fund:

Funds will only be released after

1. Signature of YIA register list at ESPGHAN booth during the Annual Meeting
2. The financial statement incl. copies of the according receipts are sent to ESPGHAN office and approved by ESPGHAN Treasurer

19.6 UEG Week Young Investigator Award

Purpose and Scope

The UEG Young Investigator Award is intended to support expenses for Young Investigators who are ESPGHAN Trainee or AHP members and who have had an abstract accepted for presentation at UEG Week.

Specification: The award can be used to cover registration, Visa application, accommodation at the conference and /or return transport to the conference, up to the value of the award.

Amount: up to €1,000

Eligibility:

- The applicant should be a young investigator / clinician with less than ten years in the sub-speciality:
 - o Medically qualified applicants should be in a training position, i.e. have not qualified in PGHN, nor have achieved a staff position;
 - o Applicants should not be well established funded researchers
 - o Full ESPGHAN members are not eligible for this award
- The applicant should have received less than 3 ESPGHAN awards in the past
- The applicant should be the first (main) presenter of the abstract selected
- The applicant should be supported by full member in good standing (i.e. without any outstanding dues) of the Society. In the case of AHP applicants, support letters can be submitted from AHP Members in good standing.

Application:

Complete application must be sent to ESPGHAN office and the following will apply:

1. Completed and signed application form
2. Support letter from an ESPGHAN member in a good standing (or AHP member in good standing for AHP applicants)
3. Proof of abstract selection for presentation, confirming applicant as first (main) presenter
4. Applicant current CV

Deadline: application deadline will be set at least 2 months prior to the UEG Week and announced on ESPGHAN website and in the ESPGHAN Newsletter

Selection Criteria: Those who have received one or two awards previously or who live from regions close to the conference may receive a reduced award due to lower travel costs. In case the number of applications exceeds the number of awards available, the treasurer may at his/her discretion either select from those applications that fulfil all criteria on a first come first serve basis (but may give priority to applicants that are in particular need e.g. from low income countries), or may adjust funding to maximise attendance.

Selection Process:

- The process is coordinated by the ESPGHAN Treasurer
- ESPGHAN Council will review the applications independently.
- The applicant will receive notification no later than 2 weeks after application deadline

Reporting and disbursement of the fund:

Funds will only be released after

- The financial statement incl. copies of the according receipts are sent to ESPGHAN office and approved by ESPGHAN Treasurer
- Proof of attendance and poster presentation at UEG week.

19.7 Distinguished Service Award

Purpose and scope

The Distinguished Service Award aims to recognize an individual who has given a major contribution to the development of paediatric gastroenterology, hepatology or nutrition. The award can be recognized as a whole life accomplishment or celebrate a major recent achievement. The field may be basic science or clinical work.

Specifications: The award is given every year with no obligation to alternate the award between the three sub-specialties. No more than one award per year will be given.

Eligibility

- Nominees should be put forward by 5 ESPGHAN members through a letter of recommendation signed by each supporting member

- Nominees should be ESPGHAN members in a good standing at the time of nomination.
- Nominations can be submitted by any ESPGHAN member.

Nomination:

- A call for nominations will be advertised on the website and in the ESPGHAN Newsletter by November each year. The following documents should be sent to the ESPGHAN Office:
 - o Letter(s) of recommendation (maximum 2 pages) with support from five ESPGHAN members outside of the Council and the Selection Committee, including the reasons for nomination and the specific achievements of the nominee.

Deadline: Nominations of potential awardees will be made by ESPGHAN members and sent to ESPGHAN office by December 31st each year

Selection Process

- The selection Committee consists of 9 members, including the following:
 1. President (Chair of Selection Committee)
 2. Secretary
 3. Education Secretary
 4. Chairs of the three Committees of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Nutrition, or deputies nominated by the respective chairs
 5. Three members, outside of the Council and the Committees, one selected by each Committee for three years

Members will not participate in the evaluation of an applicant if they work at the same institution as an applicant or have an obvious conflict of interest.

- The nominations will be reviewed by this Selection Committee.
- Each member of the Selection Committee is asked to score all applications and to submit the scores to the ESPGHAN Office (unless otherwise decided).
- Scores will be compiled, and the results be made available to all members of the Selection Committee prior to a phone conference of the Selection Committee where the strengths and weaknesses of applications considered worthy for the award will be discussed, and consensus on the selection will be sought. If consensus cannot be achieved, a majority decision will be taken. The selection should commence after to the winter Council meeting, where the nominees will be discussed and approved.
- Deadline for finalisation of scoring will be March 31st

Those nominations considered worthy but not selected will be retained for consideration in the successive award selection procedures for three years, inclusive of the year of submission (three years of consideration in total).

19.9 ESPGHAN Endoscopy Fellowship Grant

Purpose and scope: The Fellowship is intended to facilitate an improvement in paediatric endoscopy training both for those starting their endoscopy careers and for those wishing to learn and practice more advanced techniques. There will be two different levels of fellowships:

- a. 3 months duration (up to 3 available grants)
- b. 6 months duration (up to 2 available grants)

Amount: Up to €5,000 for 3 months (€1000 to institution, €4000 to individual for living costs)
Up to €10.000 for 6 months (€2000 to institution, €8000 to individual for living costs).

Specifications: The grant will help cover travel and accommodation costs within host European countries. A contribution to the host institution will be given as outlined above. Training program will be constructed in accordance with the level of expertise of the applicant for both 3- and 6-month courses.

Eligibility:

- The applicant must be an ESPGHAN Member in good standing (any type) with at least a basic level of experience in endoscopy
- Beginners with an interest in furthering paediatric endoscopy skills are welcome to apply
- Fully trained practicing paediatric endoscopists are welcome to apply
- The fellowship is to be carried out at one of the ESPGHAN allocated training centres.

Application:

Complete application must be sent to ESPGHAN office and the following will apply:

1. The applicant must submit a letter of support from 2 senior paediatric gastroenterologists – 1 from the institute of the applicant and 1 from the National Society of the country in which the applicant is training
2. A letter of intent/motivation for undertaking the project

3. A full and current CV including endoscopy portfolio and experience at the time of application
Deadline: 30 September each respective year.

Selection criteria:

ESPGHAN wishes to promote the learning of any techniques / expertise related to paediatric endoscopy. Applicants must hold a license to practice in their host country and to obtain a license where their host centre is located, or the application will be considered invalid.

Selection Process:

- The process is coordinated by the ESPGHAN Endoscopy Special Interest Group (SIG)
- ESPGHAN Endoscopy SIG will review the applications independently based on current experience levels and expertise
- The applicant will receive notification no later than four weeks after application deadline.

Reporting and disbursement of the fund:

A research or audit project will be undertaken by each successful Applicant during their Fellowship and it is expected that this will form an abstract to be submitted to the next ESPGHAN Annual Meeting following the Fellowship. This can be planned in advance of the Fellowship or designed once the Fellowship has commenced.

Payment modality:

3 Month Course: Payments will be made in 3 monthly instalments at the beginning of each respective month of the fellowship. Upon completion, a report on the outcomes of the fellowship must be submitted by both the fellow and the supervisor of the host centre. Upon receipt, the funds for the centre will be released.

6 Month Course: 50% of the funds will be released at the beginning of the fellowship, with the remaining funds disbursed after 3 months and upon receipt of a short progress report signed by a supervisor/mentor. Upon completion, a report on the outcomes of the fellowship must be submitted by both the fellow and the supervisor of the host centre. Upon receipt, the funds for the centre will be released.

Recipients of the Fellowship must not be bound by any contract involving salary with the destination service during the entire fellowship. A declaration of honour will be requested.

Training centres

- a. Training will be provided in European and Israel centres only.
- b. Following expressions of interest from Training Centres, the assessment of their training potential will be made by the Endoscopy SIG, particularly in respect to:
 - i. expertise of the staff
 - ii. training experience of the trainers (e.g. attendance at a Training the Trainers Course)
 - iii. level of care provided and equipment available
 - iii. number and type of endoscopic procedures occurring in the Centre

Investigation by the Chair and the small panel of other members of the ESPGHAN endoscopy group into the institution/country's legal requirements will be a necessity prior to hands on training.
